WELCOME TO BAYARD.

Delaware's Hearty Greeting to Her Distinguished Son.

HE TALKS ABOUT ENGLISHMEN.

Our Ambassador's Views Regarding Their Respect of Law, Their Kindly and Generous Treatment of Americans and Their High Moral Standard.

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 17.—All Delaware turned out last night to formally welcome Ambassador Thomas F. Bayard back to his native state and city after an absence of eighteen months as the representative of his government to the court of St. James. It was an important demonstration, and those who attended were numbered only by the capacity of the Opera House, in which the ceremonies were held. Mr. Bayard arrived in Wilmington from Washington at noon, and was entertained by Samuel Bancroft, Jr., Democratic candidate for congress. In the evening he drove to the residence of Senator Gray, in Wilmington, and from there was escorted to the Opera House by 900 members of the Bayard Democratic Legion.

The parade of the marching clubs was enlivened by music and fireworks and many places along Market street were brilliantly illuminated. The enthusiasm was manifested on the streets as well as in the Opera House. Nearly every repre sentative Democrat in Delaware attended the reception. From Philadelphia came a large delegation headed by William M. Singerly, Democratic candidate for governor, and Secretary of the Commonwealth William F. Harrity.

Deafening applause greeted Ambassador Bayard as he was conducted upon the Opera House stage, and he was visibly affected by the warmth and spontaneous affection of the greeting.

The ceremonies were brief and simple, without formality. Senator Gray arose and on behalf of the vast audience welcomed the honored guest of the evening, saying that all Delawareans, without regard to party affiliations, joined in a hearty welcome to the man who had done so much to add to the glory of the state. In responding Ambassador Bayard spoke in substance as follows:

"Mr. Gray, my kind friends, my dear countrymen and my good neighbors, it is very difficult to find phrases that are to express what I feel to night, for tonight is an occasion of feeling with me far more than speaking. It is no time for cut and dried phrases. It is no time for prepared speeches. It is a time when human hearts are to echo with the same good feeling. Before I can make you understand the deep gratification it has given me, after I have tried to live according to my own conscience, to find that I have lived according to yours also, then I do feel sustained, confirmed, comforted and elevated to endeavor to continue to pursue the path that leads to the honor and safety of the people who are of my own nationality and blood.

"Never before in my life have I ever been severed for so many months from the home of my nativity, and from the home circle to which most closely my affections were attached; but after nearly eighteen months of absence I return, and my heart swells with gratitude when I still see the friendly faces, when I still feel the touch of the friendly hands, when I recognize the friendly voices and feel that once more, under the providence of a benificent God, I am restored to my home and my country.

"Standing here tonight I run back far beyond the period of my own birth—back into generations of that unselfish patriotism and struggle more than a century ago, which permits us to meet in safety and in honor here tonight. There was the struggle that educated the men from whom it was my honor to draw my name and blood, but it was their inheritance of feeling, tradition and education commenced and handed from father to son, it was that that made Delaware honored in the past, it was that that shall keep Delaware honored and respected in the future.

"This is no party sentiment. Parties may come and parties may go, but this is the sentiment which pervades the party that give it its value. It is the education upon the groundwork of high morality, of upright patriotism, of unselfish public service.

"So, gentlemen, I feel tonight as if the history of this little state was being unfolded from her colonial period even unto today, and when I think over the great part that she has played in the drama of American independence and of national civilization I feel glad and gratified to have been a full blooded Delaware man.

"I value most deeply every expression of public respect and confidence, and the more that I receive the more I feel myself bound to be worthy of them so far as it lies within my power to be; but it seems to me, after having gone abroad as your representative and of the great country of which we are so happy a part, that it would be but common gratitude, but simple good manners, to make some reference to that hospitality that I have enjoyed.

"From one and all in the country to which I have been accredited has come to me nothing but the most unbounded courtesy and kindness. Everywhere I found the name of an American was received with honor; was received with favor such as I simply believe has been extended to no other people than ourselves from the beneficent the benign, the venerable lady whose virtues so illustrate the happy reign over a contented people through the officials, and down into the very heart of the people in the mass I have found nothing but friendly hands, kind words and offices of good service. I went as a friend to clear up all misunderstandings, and to bring together the hearts and the feelings of two nations bound by ties such as exists between no other two nations on the globe.

"It is but just my countrymen, that I should testify to you the spirit of respect to law, the law abiding spirit of that people. There is a consideration by the officials for the feelings of the people; there is an obedience by the people to the spirit of law incarnated to the humbler officials. In a year and a half's residence in England, and most of the time in the city of London, I have never seen a policeman with a baton or stick in his hands; I have not seen a blow struck by one; I have never heard violent language from one; I have not even seen violence in jest from one. On the other hand that plain policeman is obeyed and respected in the performance of his duty. There is a responsive cord in the hearts of the people that recognize him as the instrument of the general law and taught them that there was only safety in its obedience to law honestly executed.

"I have been a long time there, and I do not remember that I have heard an oath. I have been a long time there, and I am sure that I have never heard, at any entertainment, in the height of jest, a story that a man would object to telling to his wife, his sister or his daughter. I feel it my duty to say these things of a people who have received me so kindly and so cordially. I say it because I am most sincerely desirous of becoming an assistant to the promoter of 'Peace on earth and good will among men.'

"I come back to America only loving my country the more. I come back to America endeavoring to transplant, as far as I can in good language, that which I saw in foreign countries that may be a help to my countrymen. I am glad to bear the testimony today to the good feeling everywhere exhibited throughout Great Britain for the American people, and to say that I hope there never will be an honest British hand stretched out that there will not be an honest American hand to grasp it.

"What I say tonight has no reference whatever to the parties that divide American people. I speak just as much to my Republican brother as I do to my Democratic brother. I have been sent abroad to represent no party. I went to represent my whole country and I wish to tell you that I believe my efforts have been appreciated and understood, and that a very large part of the great share of kindness that I have received was due because they thought I came as the peacemaker and friend from my country."

Following the speeches Ambassador Bayard held a reception on the stage that continued for over an hour. Nearly all of those present passed before him and grasped him warmly by the hand. Later in the evening Mr Bayard was entertained at a banquet at the rooms of the Bayard Democratic Legion, and afterwards held a reception at the house of the Young Men's Democratic club.

Two Towns Flame Swept.

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 17.—The business portion of Liberty Centre a thriving town on the Wabash railroad twenty five miles from here, was destroyed by fire yesterday. The local fire department was unable to cope with the flames, and aid sent by Napoleon arrived too late to be of any use. The fire finally burned itself out. In all seventeen buildings were consumed, including three dry goods houses. Loss about $40,000.

SULPHUR, Ky., Oct. 17.—Fire here swept away the entire central portion of the town, destroying seven stores, the Deposit bank, two livery stables, two hotels six residences and the Louisville and Nashville depot, filled with merchandise. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

Harshly Criticized the Churches.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17.—Yesterday's session of the convention of the Women's Christian Temperance union was enlivened by a sensation consequent upon the vigorous speech made by Mrs. Louise Downs Quigley, president of the New Jersey branch of the union. She declared that the church did not properly support the cause of temperance, but merely indulged in namby-pamby talk to please the trustees and "the high license preachers." Her words were severely criticized and when she had concluded resolutions were adopted recognizing the church as the strongest ally of the temperance cause.

Mr. Morton's Coachman.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The action of Howard, Mr Morton's coachman, in signing a petition for a writ of habeas corpus may delay the proceedings under instructions sent by the immigration bureau here. These instructions directed Dr Senner to institute proceedings against Mr Morton for violation of the alien contract labor law in the event that no habeas corpus proceedings are begun. This action was also ordered to be taken in case a writ of habeas corpus action had been asked for and refused.

FELL FROM A CHURCH STEEPLE.

One Workman Instantly Killed and Another Fatally Injured.

JERSEY CITY, Oct. 17.—The breaking of a guy rope which was being used in raising a stone weighing half a ton or more to the top of the steeple of St. John's Roman Catholic church, in course of erection at Van Winkle street and the Hudson county boulevard, in the Marion section of this city, resulted in the instant death of Thomas O'Neill. The shock threw him from the top of the steeple head foremost into a pile of building material a hundred feet below, and he was literally dashed to pieces.

Thomas Gibbons was also carried away by clinging to a portion of the broken rope. He struck the roof and was caught between its iron beams and fallen stones. He was unconscious when found, and blood was coming from his nose, ears and mouth. It took half an hour's labor to extricate him. At Christ hospital, to which he was removed it was said that there is no hope of his recovery.

The men got no warning before the stone went crashing downward. O'Neill was pulled off first, Gibbons following. A third man saved himself by seizing a mortar box and clinging to it.

THE WAR AGAINST CHINA.

Unconfirmed Report of the Capture of Port Arthur by Japanese.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 17.—It is reported that Port Arthur, the Chinese stronghold, where the fleet of China has been refitting after the battle fought off the mouth of the Yalu river, has been captured by the Japanese. This dispatch, however, lacks confirmation.

A dispatch from Wiju, Corea, which was delayed in transmission, reports that the Japanese and Chinese armies are facing each other on the banks of the Yalu river, with both sides perfecting their preparations for battle. Spies report that the Chinese army is 25,000 strong. It may be that the armies have met, and that Port Arthur has been taken by the Japanese.

Colonel Von Hannekin, formerly aide de camp of Li Hung Chang, who was wounded while acting as adviser to the Chinese admiral who was in command at the naval battle fought off the Yalu river, is said to be in a dangerous condition, blood poisoning having set in. Colonel Hannekin had so far recovered from his injuries as to be able to return to duty, when a relapse prostrated him.

In Danger of Starvation.

MONTREAL, Oct. 17.—Judge Vallee, the stipendiary magistrate for the north shore of the St. Lawrence, has returned to Quebec after a five months' visit to the Canadian Labrador, the Island of Anticosti, and other places. He reports that the fishing along the Labrador coast has been very bad, and unless government assistance is promptly sent many deaths from starvation must occur before next winter is over. As for the coast Indians, their condition is even worse than that of the fishing colonies, the yield of their hunt this year having been very poor.

Shot Himself for Love.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17.—W. E. Stauffer, a well dressed, good looking man of about 24 years, engaged a room at Dooner's hotel last evening, and five minutes afterwards shot himself in the left breast with a revolver. Stauffer registered from Ashland, O. A physician was summoned, and the young man was removed to the Jefferson hospital, where little hope of his recovery is entertained. Stauffer, who retained consciousness after the shooting, said that his act was the result of a love affair.

Child Killed by an Exploding Gun.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 17.—Oscar Drake, a young man of Metuchen, N. J., accidentally shot and killed his niece, Nellie Drake, 6 years old, at the residence of his grandmother, Mrs. Madison Drake, in East Metuchen. Drake was cleaning the guns preparatory to a shooting expedition, when one of the guns exploded. The full charge of heavy shot entered the breast of the child, who was only two feet away, killing her instantly.

Carriage Builders in Convention.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17.—The twenty second annual meeting of the Carriage Builders' National association of the United States began yesterday in Industrial Hall, at Broad and Callowhill streets, with its president, M. F. Lane, presiding. An address of welcome was delivered by Mayor Stuart. After listening to reports of officers the convention adjourned until 10 o'clock today, when the real business of the convention was begun.

Shot by a Careless Gunner.

TRENTON, Oct. 17.—John Vancleve, a resident of Orange, N. J., was a passenger from Philadelphia to Newark on the Pennsylvania railroad yesterday, but he got no further than this city. A boy shooting at birds near Bristol sent a load of bird shot through a car window, and Vancleve was struck in the face by it. He is under treatment at St. Francis hospital.

Dr. Hand's Diarrhœa Mixture.

"My baby is subject to severe attacks of diarrhœa. During the last sickness, Dr. Hand's Diarrhœa Mixture was freely given and an immediate cure resulted. It would have required a dozen visits of a physician as on former occasions. I believe Dr. Hand's Remedies would have saved the life of the child I lost, had they been within my reach at the time of its sickness." Mrs. F. H. Bennett, 722 New street, Camden, N. J. Sold at all drug stores, 25 cents.

Women say that a meal tastes better when prepared by some one else, and that is just the reason why Simmons Liver Regulator is in such favor. It is already prepared in liquid and powder form. You don't need to make a tea. Another reason for this favor is that Simmons Regulator is better than Pills for Biliousness, Sick Headache, Constipation and Indigestion. Sample package powder, 25 cents.

WILL "GO UP HIGHER."

New York Police Commissioners May Testify.

CROOKED ELECTION PRACTICES.

Mr. Goff Intimates That Eight Hundred Vagrants Have Recently Been Released from Blackwell's Island Institutions for Use at the Coming Election.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—There was a demand made at yesterday's session of the Lexow investigating committee for the members to "go up higher." By this is meant that some of the members of the committee are tired of the investigation of policemen and minor criminals, and that the police commissioners and leading politicians should be placed on the stand. This demand was expressed by Senator Lexow. Senator O'Connor echoed his sentiments in still stronger language. He said that enough testimony had been produced against the rank and file of the police; that it was now the duty of the commission to find out just how far the higher officials of the force had been derelict in duty. Chairman Lexow said that the public demand this. Mr Goff said in reply that he was not quite ready to "go up higher," but that he would soon be ready to call the police commissioners to the stand.

One other point of importance came out at yesterday's investigation. Mr Goff came in and announced that he had written to Superintendent Byrnes and the commissioners of charities and correction with regard to complaints of alleged fraudulent registration by the inmates of Blackwell's Island institutions. Mr. Goff said that Superintendent Byrnes had replied to his letter, saying he would do all he could to maintain the integrity of the ballot box, and that on election day the police would be especially vigorous in prosecuting inquiries to that end.

Mr Goff said that this was a subject that he thought should be investigated at once. During a comparatively recent period 1,500 vagrants had been committed to the island. Only recently 800 of them had been released merely upon the recommendation of a clerk in the employ of the commissioners of charities and corrections. He then referred to the matter of politicians controlling lodging house loafers for political purposes.

She Loves the Ocean.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Julius Rohrbach has asked the probate court to appoint a conservator for the estate of Mrs Eliza Carson, his mother in law. It originally amounted to $110,000, but her relatives say she has spent fully $80,000 of the amount in Ocean travel. The old lady has not been off an ocean steamship for more than one day at a time for the last year, and has been traveling constantly for ten years. It is alleged that Mrs. Carson's love for the sea has grown to be a mania, and the court is asked to prevent her from turning the balance of her fortune into the coffers of the steamship companies.

He Bought Bogus Jewelry.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 17.—Nathan Smith, recently pardoned from prison, is said to have swindled Louis Buckner, a Baltimore cloak manufacturer, out of $4,000. Smith took two strangers to Buckner and told him they had over $10,000 worth of solid gold jewelry they were willing to sell for $5,500. He was given samples, and upon having them tested found them to be 18-karat gold. He paid over the money, and later found the jewelry the cheapest sort of plated stuff.

Aaronwitz Not Responsible.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Louis Aaronwitz, owner of the building 74 Monroe street, which recently collapsed and caused the death and injury of several persons, was discharged in the Essex Market police court by Justice Sims, who held that he was not responsible for the accident. Aaronwitz had been arrested and paroled for examination.

The Czarowitz to be Displaced.

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—A Copenhagen paper publishes under reserve a statement that the czar intends to change the succession and appoint his third son, Grand Duke Michael, heir to the throne, owing to the czarowitz's political views and to the fact that the illness of his second son, Grand Duke George, precludes his succession.

Died from His Injuries.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 17.—J. H. Nicely, burgess of Middletown, whose feet were cut off Monday night by a train at that place, died last night. He was 70 years old and was well known in the Masonic fraternity.

Common Sense.

Should be used in attempting to cure that very disagreeable disease, catarrh. As catarrh originates in impurities in the blood, local applications can do no permanent good. The common sense method of treatment is to purify the blood, and for this purpose there is no preparation superior to Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Pills cure constipation by restoring peristaltic action to the alimentary canal.

It May Do As Much for You.

Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe Kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so called kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to the cure of all Kidney and liver troubles and after gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Prices only 50c. for large bottle at McMonagle & Rogers Drug store.

WRECKS IN THE PACIFIC OCEAN.

Belief That Ex-Minister Grant Has Been Lost With the Ship Ivanhoe.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—The gale which has prevailed along the north Pacific coast since Saturday last has undoubtedly caused widespread disaster to shipping interests. At least three schooners are known to be wrecked, and there are grave reasons for believing that the American ship Ivanhoe has been lost with all on board. There is little doubt that the Southern Pacific raft of 10,000 spars and piles, valued at $30,000, has been broken by the elements. The news of the next few days it is thought, will show still greater loss.

The ship Ivanhoe, coal laden, from Seattle for this port is almost certainly lost. Captain C. E. Griffin commanded her, and she carried a crew of eighteen men. Colonel Fred Grant, one of the proprietors of the Seattle Post Intelligencer and ex minister to Bolivia was a passenger on the Ivanhoe, having embarked on her to enjoy the novelty of a sea voyage. A mast and yards painted yellow and believed by seamen to be part of the rigging of the Ivanhoe, have been sighted off the Oregon coast. A floating deck house painted as was the Ivanhoe was also seen in the locality.

A REMARKABLE INVENTION.

The Claims of Simon Lake for His Submarine Boat.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 17.—A Baltimore inventor hopes to make real the imaginary voyage of Jules Verne's boat Nautilus under the sea. After years of study and experiment Mr Simon Lake, of East Baltimore, has invented a submarine boat which he claims is capable of accomplishing what Jules Verne suggested might be possible in the imaginary voyage of Nautilus under the sea.

Mr Lake says: "The boat is capable of being submerged to any depth and again raised to the surface at the will of the operator. It is capable of being propelled when on the surface or when submerged, or when on the bottom of the water, as required. Divers can pass from the interior of the boat to the outside and back again when on the bottom as readily as one can pass in and out of a house."

The inventor expects to start building his first boat in a few weeks. The Lake Wrecking and Submarine Navigation company has charge of the invention.

Defies His Fellow Judges.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 17.—Editor Rosewater, of The Bee, charged with libel by ex-Sheriff Bennett, appealed to five judges of the district court against having the case tried by Judge Scott, and the judges granted his appeal. Judge Scott, however, made an order nullifying the act of the five judges, and commands Rosewater to appear before him for trial, saying: "There is no law to take this case off my docket, and it will stay there. If there is any monkeying about it some one is going to be cited to appear for contempt."

Fatal Fire in Houston.

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 17.—One of the finest business blocks here took fire at 2.40 o'clock in the morning, and before being subdued had destroyed $400,000 worth of property, including St. Joseph's infirmary, where Sisters Doorlerd and Jane were burned to death and Sister Clothilde fatally burned. There were a number of narrow escapes, and several persons were badly injured by jumping from the second story of the San Jacinto hotel.

The Czar's Strength Diminishing.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 17.—The Official Messenger issues a special edition containing the following bulletin, signed by Professor Leyden and Drs. Zacharin, Popoff and Beljaminoff: "The disease of the kidneys shows no improvement. His majesty's strength has diminished. The physicians in attendance hope that the climate of the south coast of Crimea will have a beneficial effect on the health of the czar."

Five Sailors Probably Drowned.

ERIE, Pa., Oct. 17.—Fishermen report that wreckage has come ashore at Dunkirk, consisting of a life raft and buckets, all marked "Mary French." The Mary French is a tug which sailed from Erie on last Saturday for Oswego. She was spoken northeast of here Saturday afternoon, but since that time nothing has been heard of her. It is feared that she foundered in the storm. The crew consisted of five men.

Glories in His Crime.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 17.—Charles G. Garrett, who murdered his wife at Lebanon, Pa., on Sept. 13, is in Central station, and will be taken east tomorrow. Garrett is a notorious criminal, having served three sentences in eastern prisons. He glories in his latest crime.

Big Postoffice Robbery.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 17.—The New Albany postoffice was robbed of $4,000 worth of stamps and $500 in cash while Postmaster Shindler was at dinner. The robbery was not discovered until Mr Shindler's return. No clew to the thief.

GENERAL MILES' REPORT

The Work of His Soldiers in the Great Chicago Strike.

INCIPIENT REBELLION SUPPRESSED

The Commander of the Department of the Missouri Declares That the Situation During the A. R. U. Strike Was Open Hostility to the National Government.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The annual report of Major General Nelson A. Miles, commanding the department of the Missouri, showing the conduct of affairs in that department is a remarkably short document considering the stormy period of internal strife covered by it. But notwithstanding its brevity it contains some very terse and significant statements relative to the strike. The report begins with the statement that there have been no changes of troops in the department during the year, and continues as follows:

"As in previous years, the troops in the Indian and Oklahoma territories have been occupied during much of their time in removing trespassers from the public lands, in preserving order in the newly settled region, and in keeping the peace between hostile factions of the semi-civilized Indian tribes. In addition to removing and expelling intruders in the Choctaw nation, and from the Osage and Kaw Indian reservations, the troops stationed at Forts Reno, Sill and Supply, were called on for the purpose of protecting the United States mails, guarding railroad bridges and supporting the United States marshal in making arrests.

"All of these difficult duties have been performed in a manner which shows good judgment and discretion on the part of the officers and a good state of discipline and faithful service on the part of the troops, and it is believed that but for their prompt intervention much bloodshed would have resulted. The troops having quickly and efficiently accomplished the arduous duties assigned to them, have been withdrawn from the field and returned to their respective stations.

"The conduct of the troops in restoring order and confidence where mob violence and a reign of terror existed in Chicago was marked by great forbearance, fortitude and excellent discipline, and their presence and action here very greatly contributed to the maintenance of civil law, and in my opinion saved this country from a serious rebellion when one had been publicly declared to exist by one most responsible for its existence."

The remainder of the report is very formal, and is confined to a recital of the subsequent withdrawal of the troops, their maneuvers in sham battle and some complimentary remarks upon their efficiency.

An appendix to the report is contributed by Captain J. M. Lee, Ninth infantry, in which he says:

"Throughout all these perilous times it is gratifying to state that the conduct, discipline and efficiency of the troops were so pronounced that even their presence overawed the turbulent and lawless, and won from every reputable, law abiding citizen, whether laboring man or capitalist, and every newspaper without exception the highest encomiums, and the warmest expressions of gratitude from all who were not in sympathy with anarchy, arson and pillage."

Sullivan to Re-enter the Ring.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17.—John L. Sullivan last night summoned a party of newspaper men to the theater where he is filling an engagement and said that Al Johnson has offered to back him for $20,000 a side to fight the winner of the coming Corbett Fitzsimmons battle, and he thinks he will go in for it. He believes, however, that Corbett will not fight "Lanky Bob." "He's got too much money," said John, "and moneyed men don't want to take any chances." The ex-champion added: "I quit drinking last Sunday for good, and I'm going to be a different man. Then I'll fight anybody who comes along. I'm only on the stage for a little while."

The Statue to Dr. Sims.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The statue in bronze of Dr. J. Marion Sims, the famous southerner, is to be unveiled on Saturday, Oct 20, in Bryant Park. Addresses will be made by Dr George F Shrady and Dr. Paul F. Mundi, after which the statue will be presented to the city and accepted by Mayor Gilroy. This is the first instance of the erection of a heroic statue to the memory of a member of the medical profession in the United States.

Ambushed by a Jealous Rival.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 17.—J. F. Allison, a jeweler, of Jasper was shot from ambush near Glen Allen, a small station on the Kansas City, Memphis and Birmingham railroad. Allison had left Jasper and gone to Glen Allen to see a girl, and when near her house was shot down by a jealous rival, it is thought. The murderer placed Allison's body in a box and had it shipped to Jasper.

JUMPIN JOE OF CHEROKEE MEETS A HOMELESS, HOPELESS WANDERER.

And After Hearing His Tale of Woe Persuades Him to Take an Inspiriting Dose of the Wonderful Sassyparilly—What the Result Was.

It ar' needless to remark that I am still engarged in the grand and glorious mishun of contributin to the happiness of my feller men, or at least sich of them as I meet up with in this Cherokee strip who will permit me to extend my efforts in thar behalf.

The other day, as I was out s'archin fur the roots which ar' the foundashun of my celebrated Cherokee sassyparilly, which is sold at $1 a bottle and warranted to enthuse the vital speeries as nuthin else kin, I met a pilgrim whose dejeckted appearance enlisted my sympathies to once. He was lame in both legs, his back was humped up, and his eyes were red from wipin away the tears of sorrer on the tails of his woolen coat.

"A WIFELESS, HOMELESS, HOPELESS MAN."

"Pilgrim," sez I as I stood before him, "why this sorrer?"

Tears gushed from his eyes, and he sot down on the grass and sobbed aloud.

"Hev lonelinces and sadness and sorrer driv all the boundin enthoosiasm out of yer soul and left ye to walk in the shadder of dispair?"

"She hev, stranger—she hev!" And he weeped and wiped and wept agin.

"Mebbe ye had a wife when ye jogged along this way from Kansas or Missouri—a partner of yer busum, as Shakespeare puts it?"

"I had, but in my sorrer I could no longer hustle, and she fled with a gilded stranger who was sellin sewin machines around the kentry on the weekly installment plan—warranted not to rip and any child kin run em."

"And ye luved that woman with a boundless luv?"

"Sorter luved her, sorter boundless luv. I shouldn't hev felt so bad, however, if she hadn't taken most of the outfit with her and left me shakin myself all over the claim with the seven day ager."

"A woman gocth whar she listeth," sez I as I remembered the names of three who had run away from me in days gone by.

"Yes, she do, and durn her pictur'!" he replies as he gits up a kettle speerit in his tones, and the end of his nose grows red with enoshun.

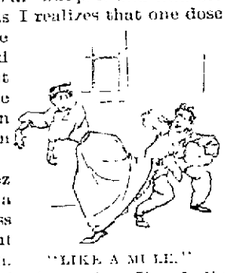
"And ye ar' finanshually busted?"

"Busted all to squash! If gondolas war a-sellin fur a cent apiece, with the biler and injine throwed in free gratis, I couldn't buy one."

"And while ye war shakin with the ager and mournin arter the lost partner of yer busum alongs cums a kuss who jumps ye outer yer hole in the ground and seizes yer bloomin claim as a site fur an orphan asylum?"

"He do, stranger, he do, and yo behold in me a wifeless, homeless, hopeless man, and one who ar' about to shuffle off this mortal coil and be at rest. Yes, a human critter cums along while my chill was on and pulls me out of the hole and tells me to go hence."

"The best of us ar' but pore and humble critters," sez I as I realizes that one dose of my Cherokee sassyparilly would tech his vital spot and relight the candle of hope in his dispairin heart.



"LIKE A MULE."

"That's so," sez he as he pulled a handful of grass and gnawed at it and wept afresh. "Yes, stranger, that's so, but I'm feelin sorry fur the pore and humble critter who got my Mary Ann even if she did sarve me out. She wars a No. 11 shoe, and she kicks straight out behind, like a mule, and her breath would wabble the hind wheels off a wagon. In leavin this yere vain world fur a better land I freely forgive him."

"And won't nothin pursuade ye to live on and becum coltish and ambishus agin?"

"Nuthin, stranger, nuthin on the face of this airth! Ye see before ye a feller critter who will be flyin around in paradise and producin sweet moosic on a golden harp before this day's sun sinks below the hills and the shadders of night cum down to kiver up the wicked spots of airth. I can't say just how much influence I'll hev up thar bein as I hain't purty and am no hand to push myself for'd, but if ye'll gin me yer name I'll do the best I kin fur ye in my humble way."

"As fur the name, it's Jumpin Joe, and fer yer willin'ness to help me I'm much obleeged."

"What did ye jump to git sich a jumpin name?"

"A claim or two in the beginnin and afore I had reformed from my wickedness, but it cums mostly through my jumpin frog and the manner in which my Cherokee sassyparilly jumps hope and ambishun into the souls of all who take it according to the printed directshuns on the bottle. Shake afore usin, and don't lose the cork and stuff a rag inter the bottle. I've ar' mine' d to take a dose or two, I'll guarantee that ye'll force [illegible] about yer [illegible]. HE DRANK HIS CONTENTS.

All the Clothes,

all at once, makes too much of a wash, perhaps. Use Pearline, and it's easy to do a few at a time. Lots of women do this. They take the napkins, towels, handkerchiefs, hosiery, etc., each day as they are cast aside.

Soak them in Pearline and water, boil them a few minutes, rinse out—and there they are, perfectly clean.

No bother, no rubbing. When the regular wash-day comes, there isn't much left to do.

Why isn't this just as well as to keep everything and wash in one day? 419

"America's Greatest Men and Women."

AMERICA'S GREATEST MEN AND WOMEN.

MR. WILSON TALKS.

MY Name is Wilson; I do an insurance business on LaSalle street, in Chicago Ill., and I hve in Evanston, Ill. Evanston is what was originally a scattering population on a pretty point on Lake Michigan, esteemed years ago far from the city of Chicago, but now one of the varied towns which may go within it by vote of the population.

I am married and have a wife and one child. That child is a boy (I suppose I should feel the same solicitude if it was a girl), and I have a father's natural fancies as to what must be the best thing to give that child the right kind of intelligence, and so divert his course that he may succeed in life. I have studied a great deal upon the subject. My own experience would not be of great value, because I have succeeded only to the limit of the average man and am barely established; still, I own the house and lot upon which I live, and am feeling perfectly safe in meeting the exigencies of the year. I want the boy to take a broader view than I did to be a bigger man in the world. I have studied how to teach him to do that, and he has done pretty well, as far as the preliminaries go. Now, I have thought over what I should say to him and have sometimes been puzzled. I could not very well tell him what I needed but what I did not learn myself when I was of his age, and what my father did not know how to tell me, or else was not thoughtful enough to do so. I wanted to tell him how to follow the example of those who have succeeded at the present time and under the circumstances which ordinarily affect a young man struggling in this Republic established on this comparatively new world to-day. I wanted to tell him just what he had better do to get along well, and to point out to him what had been done by the people who were successful at the present time.

Of course, the record of the people of any time past would not be of so much value, because circumstances must necessarily have been different when they were alive. I feel confident, though, that if I could learn, some way and somehow, what the people who are so successful to day have done and how they did it, I could give to my boy such advice as would make his own life at least as far removed from failure as justified by the natural ability he may possess.

I looked around for some authority which I might consult in order to give him the facts most essential with this idea of mine in mind, but I could find no one until I discovered that a great publishing firm in Chicago had decided to bring out a book giving the photographs of all the people who are prominent in America to-day. Here was what I wanted. The book, as I have learned, is going to be published in 16 parts, 16 pages to each, with a recent photograph on each page of some active leading American man or woman of to-day; while underneath appears the story of that same person's life—the story telling what that person did, and how the ends attained were eventually accomplished. Here was what I wanted; here was what I needed in various ways; here was what I was certainly seeking in order to obtain the information with which to educate my boy and secure for him that knowledge which will give him a source of thought and make him prominent in the world.

I have the first sheets of this work. It is a graphic story of America's Greatest Men and Women, told in each instance on a single page underneath a photograph of recent date, which conveys to the eye an idea of what that person is. To me the photograph tells even more than the suggestive record beneath; and yet it is odd how in each instance the correct story corresponds with the expression upon the face which is reproduced in the portrait above. I do not know how the series will end. I know very little about this new feature of the newspaper people; I know nothing about the publishers and their expectations, but I do know this: that if the series so begun should be continued to its practical, ordinary good sense end—and I don't care whether that will include 200 or 700 of America's Greatest Men and Women, which is the title of the book—I do know this, that for the ordinary, active and alert business man—I will certainly say far more for the student or the literary man, or the politician or the statesman—for all these I will say it will be simply the most valuable and the most remarkable book produced in modern history The wonder is that some one has not thought of it before. Yet no one seems to have done so since the days of Plutarch. Plutarch knew something. That shrewd old fellow knew that all who would get out of the drift, all who would accomplish great things, wanted to know every detail of the lives of those who had better luck or more courage or a broader brain than their fellows; but I am no authority on these points. I only know that there is produced a second Plutarch's Lives, that its biographies are shrewd, graphic and curt, and written without bias and without prejudice. I only know that there was a Plutarch—God bless the old fellow—and that there is this modern work.

This is the work I am going to give to my boy. I am going to make him read it thoroughly. The work is announced as consisting of 16 Parts, with 16 pages and 16 photographs in each part, and when bound, the whole series will make a great volume of 256 pages, the like of which has never been equaled. It is the story of the personal character of the men and women who are making the nation's history at this particular time. What a work this is! Do you imagine that I would miss it for my boy, or, incidentally, for myself?

"Will she arouse new hopes and ambishuns in this manly breast?"

"If she don't, it will be her fust failure."

"And I will agin becum a hustler and go about with a determinashun to conker or die? Stranger, don't hold out no false hopes to a crushed and dyin man!"

After sum more talk the critter walked back with me to my shanty, and I handed him a bottle of sassyparilly, and he drank of its contents. In five minits he was a changed man. Hope returned; ambishun fired his soul; gladness shone in his eyes I patted him on the back, headed him out into the world and told him to go forth and conker. He went, but as darkness fell he returned and stole my spotted hoss, and a shotgun, and a blanket, and though I chased him three miles he got away Sich is the gratitood of human natur', but I'm not complainin. If I can git the case properly afore the public, it orter increase the sales of my sassyparilly by 50 bottles a week. Don't git up in the night and take my Magic cement by mistake, and don't gin the fany the bottle to chaw on while cuttin his eyeteeth.

AUSTIN KEENE.

Fate.

Long she stood at the window and mused. The rays of the setting sun entangled themselves in her Titian hair or surrounded her glorious height of 5 feet 8 with an aureate halo. Proud, queenly, limbed like a goddess, she was indeed a magnificent specimen of femininity.

"Strange," she muttered. And then a soft, self playing, half happy smile flitted across her face like a gleam of April sunshine.

"Strange," she said again, "to think that I, who only six short months ago was the quarter back of the Emancipated Maidens' football eleven, should have lost my heart to a man whose collar is a size and a half smaller than mine. But such is fate. And I love him!"

Carelessly picking up a 40 pound dumbbell, she tossed it out of the window and across the lot and then sought her boudoir.—Cincinnati Tribune.

Confusion In the Temple.

During a late protracted session of the Blue Light tabernacle the Rev. Whangdoodle Baxter brought his umbrella down on the pulpit with a jolt that rattled the sash in the window frames and exclaimed.

"Dere's got to be less talkin in dis room. I can't hear myself think."

Upon hearing this one of the colored sisters arose and said:

"Brudder Baxter, I wishes to call yer retention to de fac' dat it am de duty ob members of de congregation whom am in de talkin.'

"Hev, am it?" replied the Rev. Whangdoodle, with a savage gleam in his eye. "I'se mighty glad of dat. Dar am some kin of show of hat's stoppin it hit's de males. Ef hit was de females dat was talkin, dar would be no chickens of hit's eber lettin up."—Texas Siftings.

The Custom of the Country.

"When I was in Kentucky last," said the man who had seen it all, "it was very dry down there and they told me I'd have to take whiskey or nothing."

"And what did you say?" inquired one who was interested in his welfare.

"I said nothing," he replied, with the air of a martyr.

"That was right, that was right, my dear fellow."

"Yes, I found out that it was. They always give a man who says nothing."—Detroit Free Press.

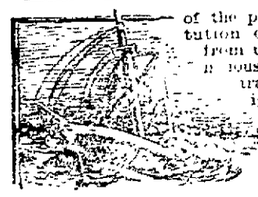
A WRECK



of the physical constitution often comes from unnatural, pernicious habits, contracted through ignorance or from excesses. Such habits result in loss of manly power, nervous exhaustion, nervous debility, impaired memory, low spirits, irritable temper, and a thousand and one derangements of mind and body. Epilepsy, paralysis, softening of the brain and even direct insanity sometimes result from such reckless self-abuse.

To reach, reclaim and restore such unfortunates to health and happiness, is the aim of the publishers of a book written in plain but chaste language, on the nature, symptoms and curability, by home treatment, of such diseases. This book will be sent sealed, in plain envelope, on receipt of ten cents in stamps to pay postage.

A MOTHER'S STORY.

HAPPINESS COMES AFTER YEARS OF SUFFERING.

The Terrible Experience of a Well Known Official's Wife—A Story That Appeals to Every Mother in the Land.

From the Chattanooga, Tenn., Press.

No county official in East Tennessee is better known and more highly esteemed than Mr. J. Wilson, Circuit Court Clerk, of Rhea County, at Dayton, the home of Mr. Wilson. He enjoys the confidence and respect of all classes, and in the business community his word is as good as his bond. Just now Mr. Wilson is receiving heartiest congratulations from his numerous friends because of the restoration to robust healt hof his estimable wife, who has for years been a helpless invalid. Mrs. Wilson's high standing in society, and her many lovable traits of character have won her a host of friends, and her wonderful recovery has attracted wide-spread attention.

As the Press was the medium of bringing to the invalid lady's attention the remedy that has effected her remarkable cure, a reporter was sent to Dayton to interview Mrs. Wilson, in order that the general public might have the benefit of the sufferer's experience and be made aware of the treatment that wrought such a marvelous change in her condition. The reporter was welcomed at the Wilson home, and the enthusiastic lady with becoming reluctance gave the history of her affliction and the manner in which she was relieved:

"Yes," said Mrs. Wilson, "I was for eight years an invalid with one of the most distressing afflictions woman can suffer. For eight years I moped around, dragging myself with difficulty and pain out of bed. My little ones went untrained and were greatly neglected, while I looked listlessly and helplessly at the cheerless prospect before me and them. I suffered the most intense pains in the small of my back, and these seemed even greater in the region of the stomach, extending down to the groins. I suffered agony, sleeping or awake. Despair is no word for the feeling caused by that dreadful sensation of weakness and helplessness I constantly experienced.

"I was treated for my trouble by several local physicians, but they were able to give me only temporary relief by the use of sedatives and narcotics. I had almost given up all hope of ever securing permanent relief, when I saw an account in the Press of a cure which Dr. Williams's Pink Pills had effected. I decided to try them, as I knew the lady who had been cured and had great confidence in her statement. I began to take the pills in October, 1893, and in two months I was doing light housework and attending to the children without any bad effects or weakness, such as I had formerly experienced. Hitherto, I had been unable to retain any food, but now appetite grew stronger, and with it came back that old, healthy and hearty tone of the stomach. Dr. Williams's Pink Pills cured me, and I assure you the cure has brought a great change in our home. I can now rejoice in my husband's success, for I feel that I have something to live for. Who has a better right to feel this than a mother? One thing more. I have recommended these pills to others, and many of the women of Dayton have taken them with good results, and it is my greatest pleasure to recommend to every suffering woman a remedy that has done so much for me."

An analysis proves that Dr. Williams's Pink Pills for Pale People contain in a condensed form all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effects of la grippe, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexion, that tired feeling resulting from nervous prostration; all diseases resulting from vitiated humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc. They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppressions, irregularities, and all forms of weakness. In men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork or excesses of whatever nature.

Dr. Williams's Pink Pills for Pale People are now manufactured by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., and are sold in boxes (never in loose form by the dozen or hundred, and the public are cautioned against numerous imitations sold in this shape), at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2 50, and may be had of all druggists, or direct by mail from Dr. Williams Medicine Co.

Light Punishment for a Tyrant.

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—The court of discipline at Potsdam has finished the trial of Herr Liest, late chancellor of the German colony of the Cameroons, who was charged with numerous acts of cruelty upon the natives in his jurisdiction, brutally flogging women, etc. The judgment of the court is that Liest be transferred to another post and pay the costs of his trial.

The Whisky Trust at War.

PEORIA, Ills., Oct. 17.—The whisky trust has reduced prices on alcohol two cents per gallon, equivalent to nearly four cents per wine gallon. This is regarded as the beginning of a war in prices between the trust and competitors which will eclipse any previous war, and that goods will be sold regardless of cost to manufacture.

Officer Shot by a Burglar.

WOOSTER, O., Oct. 17.—Marshal Heffelfinger, of Jeromeville, O., was shot and fatally wounded by an unknown burglar. Heffelfinger had followed the burglar to a barn and found him in a haymow. While taking him from the mow the burglar turned on the officer, fired a shot into his breast and escaped.

A New Electric Railroad.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 17.—A charter has been issued by the state department to the Williams Valley Street Railway company, with a capital of $100,000, to build an electric line between Reiner City, Schuylkill county, and Lykens, a distance of twelve miles.

Another Cup Challenger.

A New World's Cycling Record.

CLEVELAND, Oct 17.—Louis Gimm, a member of the Cleveland Wheel club succeeded at 5 o'clock last evening in breaking the world's record for a twenty-four hour run. The run was made upon the Newburg Driving Park track in the presence of a large crowd. When Gimm left the track he had covered 883⅞ miles and 17 yards or 570 yards less than 884 miles. The best previous record was 874 miles.

Rebellion in Morocco.

PARIS, Oct. 17.—A dispatch from Tangier reports that Morocco City has been in a state of rebellion for the past week. The sultan's caliph, Prince Muley Abbas, is hemmed in by the insurgents, owing to his attempt to execute the sultan's order to arrest Caid Behama. The caid resisted desperately and finally committed suicide in order to evade being taken into custody.

Disasters to Gloucester's Fishing Fleet.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Oct 17.—The record of disasters to the fishing fleet for the year ending this month is the largest ever known here in a single season. Twenty-nine vessels, with an aggregate tonnage of 2,354 tons and 112 men were lost, against ten vessels and fifty three men last year.

Fall River Strikers Defeated.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Oct 17.—The weavers' strike is still on, but according to the manufacturers the tide has again turned in their favor, and they report a gain in the number of looms running. The manufacturers assert that out of a total of 59,879 looms in the city only 26,196 are stopped.

An Aged Couple Killed by a Train.

QUINCY, Ills., Oct 17.—William Davis and wife were killed by a Wabash passenger train while at a crossing west of Mount Sterling. Davis was 89 and his wife 85 years old. He was one of the best known men in Brown county.

Coudert Will Support Hill.

NEW YORK, Oct 17.—John B. Thatcher makes public a letter from Frederick R. Coudert in which the latter says he will vote for and support David B. Hill for governor.

The Trouble Over.

A prominent man in town exclaimed the other day: "My wife has been wearing out her life from the effects of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and Indigestion. Her case baffled the skill of our best physicians. After using three packages of Bacon's Celery King for the Nerves she is almost entirely well." Keep your blood in a healthy condition by the use of this great vegetable compound. Call at John J. Chambers, 21 West Main Street opp. Runyons grocery, sole agent, and get a trial package free. PROFESSIONAL SUCCESS.

Theatre-goers will recognize the above portraits as those of a young actress, of whom the world already knows much, and is destined to know more. The lady, Miss Ellen Vockey, was born in Baltimore, graduated in music from the Peabody Institute of that city, and finished her musical education at Leipsic in Germany. Even in childhood she gave evidence of possessing the dramatic instinct. Her earliest professional appearances were on the German stage, as "Mary Stuart" and "Jane Eyre," in this country as "Juliet," "Parthenia," and "Lady Teazle,"—with marked success. As a dramatic reader, she has won high praise, having given selections from Schiller and Goethe before the German Court. During the World's Fair in Chicago, she created a sensation in performances in the Woman's Building, and also at the Calumet Theatre. Since then she has repeated her success in New York and elsewhere. In Washington, where she resides, Miss Vockey is a great favorite, being as charitable as she is talented. We gladly make room for the following letter, showing her good fortune in a hygienic, as well as a dramatic direction:

269 W. 22d St., New York.

The Pre-digested Food Co., 30 Reade St., New York.

Gentlemen:—I beg to leave to inform you that I have used your Paskola, and find it an excellent thing as a flesh and strength producer. I heard of it through a friend, and also from my brother, who is a painter. Both recommeded me to try it, and I did so. As my work is hard and exhausting, I often felt faint after a performance. Indeed, half the time I had no appetite, but since I began the use of Paskola, I have a lovely appetite, and have gained flesh. It is an excellent starchy food, and the stomach absorbs it easily. I can only speak of it in the highest terms, and shall continue its use during the hot weather. I recommend it to the profession, for use both before and after a performance. I hope what I here say may induce other weak and nervous women to try Paskola.

Yours truly, ELLEN VOCKEY.

A reporter recently called on Sergeant Elias B. Dunn, New York's weather prophet, to talk with him about the matter. He was found in his office, looking exceedingly well. In response to an inquiry he said: "I have used the pre-digested food, Paskola, myself, and in my family, and I must say that I have found it just what is claimed for it. In fact, I have been chanting the praises of it very steadily ever since I first began to use it. Why shouldn't I? It has built me up and made a new man of me. You see how fresh and rosy I am and I intend to keep so."

All brain workers,—actors, lawyers, doctors, inventors, artists, clergymen, authors, editors, merchants financiers, etc., etc., are almost certain to suffer from indigestion and dyspepsia, with its attendant nervous prostration. They become anæmic and weak. Lacking necessary nourishment, body and mind run down together. Drugs do no good. At best drugs in such cases are mere pokers to stir the dying embers. What is wanted is more fuel: that is, food which the system can receive and assimilate without taxing the digestive organs.

Such a food (and the only one in existance) is Paskola. Being pre-digested, it spares the stomach the labor imposed by ordinary food, enters the blood, and is at once taken up by the hungry and needy body. It virtually rests the stomach. That is both science and sense.

People who were wan, tired, feeble low-spirited, dyspepsia-cursed and consumptive, write us daily from Maine to Mexico, saying they are getting fat and hearty on Paskola after a weary and useless dosing with drugs and cod-liver oil. And with reason. Paskola stands for the true theory—the right practice.

Send your name to the Pre-digested Food Co., 30 Reade Street, New York, and they will send free an interesting pamphlet on food and digestion.

Republican campaigners, whether with pen or with tongue, are not having much to say of late about favors showered upon the Sugar Trust by the Democratic Congress. Now that the poor man can buy sweetening for his coffee cheaper than ever before, and the rich man is having chills over the way his investment in Sugar Trust certificates is "going to smash," they act wisely in dropping this one lie out of the canvass.

Senator Hill spoke at three mass meetings, yesterday; at Little Falls in the afternoon, and in Utica's two opera houses in the evening. The meetings were all largely attended and very enthusiastic and the Senator's addresses were able, aggressive and effective. A new and important point which he made in one of his Utica speeches is worthy of note. It is that the looting of the Treasury by the Billion Dollar Congress, the real cause of the panic of 1893, was concealed by juggling with the figures in the Treasury reports and the crisis thus transferred from the closing hours of the Harrison administration to that of President Cleveland.

Senator Hill well says that the most important issue in this fall's campaign is the defeat of the outrageously unjust apportionment devised by the Republican majority in the Constitutional Convention. The decision of the Attorney General that paster ballots cannot be use in voting on the amendments will have the effect of disfranchising many ignorant voters who will not be able to distinguish between the "for" and "against" ballots. All that is needed to carry an amendment is that it shall receive more votes than are cast against it, for it is not necessary as some suppose that it shall receive a majority of all the votes cast at the election and, this being the case, Democrats everywhere should make it a point to vote against the apportionment amendment and should impress upon those not familiar with the importance of the matter the necessity of making their votes count against this iniquitous scheme.

When Joseph Dean was a candidate for Member of Assembly, last year, he asked his Democratic friends and acquaintances to vote for him, saying that he didn't expect to be elected but wanted to make as good a showing as possible. Deceived by this specious plea many Democrats good naturedly voted for Mr. Dean, only to find on election night that complimentary votes are risky things, and if enough of them are cast produce results that are neither expected nor desired. Mr. Dean will ask for Democratic votes again this year, but he cannot plead that he does not expect an election, and we very much mistake the spirit of the Democrats of this district, this fall, if they allow good nature, personal friendship or the fact that "Joe Dean is a good fellow," to influence their votes for the purely political office of Member of Assembly.

WILL THE VERDICT OF 1892 BE REVERSED?

Having, after long and sober reflection, made up their minds that the only explanation for the phenomenal multiplication of millionaires and multi-millionaires of late years in these United States, was had in class favoritism in the division and apportionment of Federal taxes by the party in power, the people revolted from that party in 1892, kicked it out of office and put in power the party which had pledged itself to reform these abuses, to take the government out of the business of making the few very rich at the cost of the many.

The second anniversary of the day upon which the people took this action is close at hand, and, amazing fact, there are men wagering large sums that the people will then undo what they did,—will then kick out of office the tax reformers and put back in office the manufacturers of millionaires and despoilers of the masses.

What has happened in these few months that men should have the courage to put fortunes at stake upon the issue that the people will now undo what they were many years making up their minds to do? "Well," some one says, "we have had hard times." True, but, bless your heart, the people are not cowards to be frightened out of their better judgment by a touch of adversity; and besides, they are not so wanting in intelligence, in forecast, but they must long ago have forseen that no such sweeping revolution, as they ordered two years since, could come about without business disturbances of more or less severity. No, the people are neither poltroons nor fools; so some better reason than hard times must be found for their backing down, as some men are betting they will.

What then is it that is to cause the people of the United States to reverse their verdict of 1892? Have they reasoned themselves out of the convictions which they then had? Do they no longer think it a wrong to themselves and their posterity that laws should be made to serve the few and now the many,—part of the people and not the whole people? Do they not think it was a dream, a fantastical delusion, that made them, two years ago, vote for a scheme of broader trade, unshackeled commerce, and for the overthrow of a narrow and insular policy which was costing us loss of the world's commercial opportunities and commercial friendship?

A VIRGINIA TRAIN ROBBER ARRESTED

Captured at Cumberland, Md., This Morning—Money, Pawn Tickets, Disguises and Incriminating Memoranda Found in His Possession.

BY UNITED PRESS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 17.—A dispatch from Cumberland, Md., says a man who gave the name of Searcy and claimed to hail from Kansas, was arrested at the depot, this morning, on suspicion of having been implicated in the train robbery on Friday night last on the Richmond, Fredericksburgh and Potomac Road.

He was about to board a train on the Baltimore and Ohio for the West. He carried two satchels and told conflicting stories. Fifteen hundred dollars were found on him, also gold and silver watches, pawn tickets, and a memorandum book showing how the money taken from the express car had been divided. Disguises were also found in his satchel. It was learned that the man had arrived in this city yesterday, and had gambled away several hundred dollars. He was held for the action of the Virginia authorities.

Officers who arrested the man say he resisted stubbornly.

A report from Cherry Run, W. Va., says four men were overtaken by officers there, yesterday, suspected of being implicated in the robbery. After a desperate resistance two of them were arrested. The other two escaped and officers are in hot pursuit. None of the stolen property was found on the men.

MORTON OR HILL???

You will elect the Governor of your own political faith, if you have any, that is as far as you are concerned; but there are differences of opinion, and you know that differences of opinion are all that make elections, anyway; but when it comes to a question of clothing, especially winter clothing, that must protect you from a winter's fury there is but one faith, and with no differences of opinion, save as to style and material. You all demand that it shall be good and we trust that we have merited the name of sellers of good clothing. We assert, and boldly, that no better goods were ever sold in Middletown, and none cheaper. Come in and look around, on overcoats, our particular pride, and on suits, compare prices with other stores and you'll find ours the cheapest. You will never fare ill in our hands.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Henry Y. Mayette.

Mrs. Hattie S., wife of Henry Y. Mayette, of Brooklyn, died, yesterday, at her home in that city.

Mrs Mayette was a daughter of the late Edmund S. Mills, of the town of Wallkill, and was a sister of T. A. Mills, the well known milk dealer and creameryman, now of New York city, and of Emmet Mills, of New Hampton. Another brother, Wickham, lives on Long Island. Her husband is well known in this county, having been Secretary of the Orange Blossoms' Veteran Association.

The remains will be brought to this city, Friday, on Erie train 1, and the interment will take place in the family plot in the Phillipsburgh Cemetery at 12 o'clock.

BUSY OVER THE RIVER HAT SHOPS

What Democratic Tariff Reform Has Done for the Hatters in Fishkill.

The Poughkeepsie News Press says that the hatters in Duteness county are as busy as they can be and are making big wages. While the McKinley tariff was in force the hat trade was paralyzed and they were idle most of the time, their wages for a year amounting to only a small fraction of what they are now earning.

The output of the Tompkins factory, at Fishkill Landing, is now 3 100 dozen hats a week. The Carroll factory, at Matteawan, is so rushed with orders that a large addition has been made to it, new machinery put in and the number of hands largely increased.

Democratic tariff reform and free wool have lifted wool hatting out of the dumps and put it on its feet.

Annual Meeting of the State Hospital Trustees and Superintendents.

The eighth annual meeting of the Trustees and Superintendents of the State Hospitals will be held at the Matteawan Hospital, to-morrow. Dr. Talcott and a number of the Trustees of the Middletown Hospital will attend. The object of the meeting is to bring together the officials of the different institutions for the purpose of comparing experiences and offering suggestions that will be of mutual benefit.

Johnson's Horse Thief Detective Society.

From Our Johnson Correspondent

The annual meeting of the Johnson's Horse Thief Detective Society was held at Mr. J. R. Drake's store, Saturday evening. The following officers were elected: D. C. Thompson, President; A. J. Harrison, Vice-President; E. V. R. Gardner, Secretary; G. B. Brinkerhoff, Assistant Secretary, and L. A. Aldrich, Treasurer. With the exception of Mr. Gardner, they are all last year's officers. The Treasurer reports cash on hand $100.

"Take the Best Room in the House."

Last night a tramp went to the lockup, the door of which stood open, and finding no one there started out to find a policeman to get permission to lodge there. He had not gone far when he met Officer Vail and made his wants known.

Mr. Vail simply said:

"The door is open, take the best room in the house," and the tramp did so.

NO RAILROAD TO THE ASYLUM THIS YEAR.

The Council's Peremptory Order to the Erie to Bridge Its Tracks of No Effect—Receivers Are Officers of the U. S. Court and Don't Have to Obey Orders from City Officials.

It would seem that the Common Council in its "order" to the Erie Railroad Company to build a bridge over its tracks on the extension of Chestnut street has run against a snag and that the penalty of so many dollars per day for each day the order is ignored will never be collected. It was a case of bluff, pure and simple, but the members of the Council did not realize that they were attempting to bluff the United States Court instead of the Erie Railroad Company.

It was not taken into account that the road is in the hands of receivers appointed by the United States Circuit Court and that the monies that come into their hands, except what is necessary for the operation of the road, can only be used on an order from the court.

It looks very much now as if the electric road will not go to the State Hospital this year, for if our informant is correct and we believe he is, not a single step has been made in the right direction to secure a crossing and much time must elapse after proceedings are commenced, before the result can be attained.

MRS SWEENEY DAILEY'S LICENSE.

Revoked by the Board of Excise—Wouldn't Have Her as a Tenant.

The Board of Excise met, this morning, and revoked the license granted, Monday night, to Mrs. Anna Sweeney-Dailey, of Port Jervis. The publication in the ARGUS of the police court record of the woman and her husband called forth such indignant protests from all good citizens that the two Excise Commissioners, who had voted for the license, made haste to run to cover.

Mr. Herman Lasser, owner of the premises at 62 Fulton street, this morning, telegraphed Mrs. Dailey that he would not let her occupy the place. The present tenant had sublet the property to Mrs. Dailey without Mr. Lasser's knowledge or consent.

THROWN FROM A WAGON.

Two Men and a Stove Dumped Into the Street—The Men Not Injured and the Damages Slight.

Last evening, Mr. L. C. Hoyt, of the firm of Hoyt & Galloway, and Mr. Harvey Steadman, an employe, started out to deliver a stove. At the corner of Academy and Little avenues, the horse shied at an electric car and upset the wagon, throwing both occupants and the stove out of the wagon.

Very fortunately neither gentleman was hurt, although the stove fell upon Mr. Steadman.

The only damage was a broken shaft.

"WHO'S TO WIN HIM?"

The Amusing Play to Be Given at the Hospital Fair.

The society play to be given at the Hospital Fair, to be held in the Casino next week from Wednesday until Saturday, inclusive, will be entitled "Who's to win him?" and a more attractive and enjoyable bit of acting has never been attempted in Middletown. It is brim full of fun and humorous situations, and one eminently calculated to bring forth the talent possessed by the participants.

Another feature of the fair will be the sale of dressed dolls, just the thing to buy and store away until Christmas for the girls; saves you the trouble of dressing them, and helps a most worthy endeavor.

The O and W's Low Rates to Newburgh.

Special rates to Newburgh, via the N. Y., O. and W., Oct. 18th and 19th. Fare $1 18 round trip. Tickets good on all trains. Tickets for firemen can be had from the Secretray of Phœnix Engine Company or at the Main street depot.

His Injuries Believed to Be Fatal.

Mr. J. Kimber Schofield, who was struck by train 38, at Main street, yesterday, is in about the same condition as last evening, and there seems to be little hope of his recovery. His death is only a question of time.

Real Estate Notes.

—H. B. Holmes, of Wurtsboro, has sold his farm at Brownville, town of Mamakating, Sullivan county, to John H. Wood, real estate agent, of Port Jervis, who has since sold the property to Sovervne Westbrook of Huguenot, who will occupy it next spring.

Population of the State Hospital.

According to the Conglomerate there were, Wednesday, 1,054 patients in the State Hospital, in this city, of whom 520 were males and 534 females. During the week one patient was admitted and two discharged.

INCIDENTS AND HAPPENINGS IN GOSHEN.

The Vocal Society's First Entertainment—The Danites, the Press and Frank Flynn—A New Tailor Shop.

From Our Regular Correspondent

The first entertainment of the Goshen Vocal Society, Friday evening, will consist of reading by Mr. Geo. Riddle, of the famous drama, Lucretia Borgia. A first class orchestra will furnish the music during the evening.

—Don't forget that "The Danites" will be presented at the Music Hall, to-morrow night.

—The Press goes considerably out of its way to give the Democratic candidate a dirty act. Mr. Flynn says that that paper has only been waiting for a chance to "cut" him, because one of its attaches has had ill feeling toward him for some time past.

—Chas. Lumsted has opened a a tailor shop in the Sayer block on Greenwich street.

IN ANCIENT GOSHEN.

Items of Social, Local and Personal Interest—An Original Method of Showing Consideration for the Departed.

From a Special Correspondent.

—Miss Lizzie Matthews entertained a few of her friends at her home in this village, last Friday evening.

—Rev. Dr. Gallaudet, of St. Ann's Church, New York, will preach at St. James Church, Goshen, on the morning of Sunday, October 20th. The open offertory at that service will be devoted to the deaf mute mission, in which Dr. Gallaudet has been interested for many years.

—The regular rehearsal of the Vocal Society will be omitted this week.

—The ladies of St. James's Guild met, yesterday afternoon, at the residence of Mrs. George Grier, for the purpose of sewing for the missionary box.

—Perhaps one of the most remarkable tributes ever paid to the memory of a departed husband was offered by a woman mentioned in last Sunday's Sun. Upon the first anniversary of his death, his disconsolate widow proceeded to get up a memorial celebration in his honor, in which she invited the local fire company to take a part. This, the members of that organization, either thinking that their presence at such a time might be unpleasantly suggestive to the irreverent as to the present whereabouts of their deceased fellow townsman, or else feeling themselves unequal to the occasion, refused to do. It is always pleasant to see a woman thoughtful for the comfort of her lord and master during his life time, but how doubly delightful to find her so regardful of his welfare even after his demise. No doubt it was owing to this reason that, in spite of the somewhat significant fact that she bought an acre of ground for a burial plot—which might have suggested to a reflective man that she was looking forward to filling it with husbands—a second candidate for her hand soon presented himself, was promptly accepted, and almost as promptly buried, probably with all appropriate ceremonies. Unfortunately for the rest of mankind, she soon afterward, in company with a favorite boon companion in the shape of a small, but dissipated dog, developed a fondness for beer, which they were wont to drink alternately out of the same glass until both became intoxicated. This bad habit terminated her career before she had an opportunity of brightening the life of a third spouse. History does not say what became of the dog. G. H.

A STRANGE CASE.

How an Enemy was Foiled.

The following graphic statement will be read with intense interest: "I cannot describe the numb, creepy sensation that existed in my arms, hands and legs. I had to rub and beat those parts until they were sore, to overcome in a measure the dead feeling that had taken possession of them. In addition, I had a strange weakness in my back and around my waist, together with an indescribable 'gone' feeling in my stomach. Physicians said it was creeping paralysis, from which, according to their universal conclusion, there is no relief. Once it fastens upon a person, they say, it continues its insidious progress until it reaches a vital point and the sufferer dies. In my case I had no suspects. I had been doctoring a year and a half steadily, but with no particular benefit, when I saw an advertisement of Dr Miles' Restorative Nervine, procured a bottle and began using it. Marvelous as it may seem, but a few days had passed before every bit of that creepy feeling had left me, and there has not been even the slightest indication of its return. I now feel as well as I ever did, and have gained 12 pounds in weight, though I had run down from 170 to 147. Four others have used Dr Miles' Restorative Nervine on my recommendation and it has been as satisfactory in their cases as in mine. —James Kane, La Rue, O.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is sold by druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, 6 bottles for $5 express prepaid. It is free from opiates or dangerous drugs.

[Original Version.]

Come, thou all-absorbed of my soul,
In purity as on ev'nings Dew
Nature's tremulous love-throbs start
Thy name, as soft-lipt Twilight's kiss.

If now thou wert rapturous fair,
Nor I were forlorn to claim thee,
To me my heart's delight,
My soul's bride I take unto thee.

—Brooklyn Eagle.

HIS LAST CRIB.

"I ain't," observed Burglar Joey Brown as, wheezing and gasping, he struggled through Lord Heathington's scullery window. "I ain't as narver as I used to be when I fust entered the purfession, not by a long chalks. I'm puttin on flesh, that's wot I'm doin, and it's time I left off burglin and took a pub. Lawd, but that's made me sorter sultry!"

Burglar Joey Brown took a large red handkerchief from one of his suspiciously capacious pockets and wiped his face with energy. He was an old hand at the game, was Joey. True, he had been "quodded" once or twice, but what of that? Every burglar whose soul is in his work must expect to be "quodded" occasionally during his career. Besides these doses of "penal" afford time for reflection and rest.

Joey had made his way cautiously from the mews which lay at the back of Lord Heathington's town residence, and when he had reached the small courtyard which separated the stables from the main building the rest had been easy, and here he was in the scullery.

Joey rubbed his face until it shone like a copper kettle and then returned the handerkchief to his pocket.

"If this 'ere exploit," said Mr. Brown, addressing the tubs and bowls around him, "turns up trumps and brings in the dibs, well"—with a satisfied chuckle—"Joe Brown and burglin will part company. Joe Brown is gettin too fat for this kind er work. And now, as Macbeth observes in the play, 'Let us away,' and inspect 'is lordship's valyebles."

Joey, whose boots, it is hardly necessary to explain, had been left in a shady corner of the mews, made his way noiselessly out of the scullery into the kitchen and thence into the corridor.

"These footmen," said Joey, who seemed to be perfectly acquainted with his whereabouts, "snore like 'ogs. I might do a 'ornpipe in boots 'ere and never be 'eard with that hawful row goin on."

After looking in on the slumbering footman for a moment Mr. Brown proceeded on his way and ascended to the first floor.

"They've several little articles in the drorin room wot I want to inspect," he murmured, "after which we will pay our customary visit to the plate closet."

Joey made his way quietly into the drawing room, but before annexing anything of value he deposited himself upon a divan and grew poetical.

"Just to think," he murmured, "on'y this one crib, and then I've done with the purfession forever. Little pub in the country—shady medders—cows and sheep baain—new laid eggs and milk—there will Joe Brown spend the hartumn of his days—the ewenin of a useful career. I will go to church, be a churchwarding." Here Joey gave vent to a most unctuous chuckle. "Just fancy, Joey 'andin the bag! Oh, wot delights are in store for Joe Brown when 'e retires from business! It won't be long afore there's a Mrs Joseph Brown. Wot, oh, wot is home without a mother! And now, Joe, you must buck up and get to work on those 'ere goldon"—

Creak!

Joe sat up with a start, and then, with wonderful alacrity for a man of his bulk, left his seat and slid behind a screen which stood near him.

Creak!

"Somebody on the move," said Joe softly. "There's a door goin." He listened intently, and his quick ears soon detected the sound of footsteps crossing the hall. Arrived at the foot of the staircase, the person, whoever it was, began to ascend, upon which the burglar left his place of concealment, crawled to the door and peeped out.

"'Is lawdship!"

Joe quickly got back to his screen and decided to give the master of the house a good half hour in which to get to bed and to sleep. "That was a narrer shave," he soliloquized. "Suppos-in I 'adn't 'eard 'im and 'd come plump in 'ere and found me restin on 'is sofay! W'y, it ud 'ave meant goodby to the pub and 'ow are yer' to the Scrubbs or Portland. This ought to teach you, Joey, that, like other vocations, burglin is never entirely learnt. Now, suppose we"—

Creak!

"Some one else about!" was Joey's classic utterance as he once more crawled to the door and peeped out.

There was some one else about. As Joey peeped out a tall, dark man in evening dress issued from the room facing that which was honored with Mr Brown's presence and stood for a moment examining something which glistened in the moonlight, for, contrary to Joey's expectations, the moon had disengaged herself from the clouds which had previously enveloped her and was now shedding her soft light on the world below.

Whatever it was that he was examining the man put it quickly into the inside pocket of his dress coat and then made his way to the staircase. As the light which came through the fanlight fell on his face Joey saw that it was convulsed with rage and some evil passion. His teeth were clenched and his fists were doubled, and his whole face seemed to work. At the foot of the staircase he paused.

"He knows" he muttered. "My own brother! He's seen me this favor—this favor—I'll be even with him. Very well, I'll be even with him. I'll—I'll—I'll—

LONDON'S NEW LORD MAYOR.

Promoter of Nine Enterprises, Capitalized at $15,000,000, Which Pay No Dividends.

SIR JOSEPH RENALS.

Sir Joseph Renals, the new lord mayor of London, receives a salary of $50,000 a year—a sum equal to that paid the president of the United States. On Nov. 8 and 9 he takes the oath of office and the pageant known as the lord mayor's show is held. Like the comic opera character with the great brain and the eagle eye, Sir Joseph was born and educated at Nottingham, where he was for years engaged in the bleaching business. He was born in 1843, and 32 years later retired from business with a fortune and removed to London, where he was elected alderman in 1888. During the past year he has been senior sheriff of London and as such was prominently mentioned as the next lord mayor.

When the aldermen met to choose a lord mayor, however, Renals' candidacy was opposed on the ground that he was not a fit man for the place, it being urged against him that he was the promoter and director of nine big corporations with an aggregate capital of over $51,000,000, not one of which was paying dividends. Inasmuch as London's lord mayor's office has recently been mixed up in several unsavory financial scandals, the charge against Renals had considerable weight, but at a ballot of the entire guilds the senior sheriff's great brain and eagle eye won the day.

Sir Joseph Whitehead, who was elected lord mayor in 1888 and held the office two years, engaged in disgraceful company promotion and caused a great scandal. Another lord mayor, Sir Henry Aaron Isaacs, also assisted in floating two gigantic swindles while he occupied the high position, and Sir Joseph Savory, who was elected in 1890, proved almost as unsavory as his predecessor, Lord Mayor Whitehead. He pledged himself not to join any big corporation during his term as lord mayor, but within a very few weeks after he was installed in office he became a director in a company which, not strange to relate, obtained the contract for lighting London by electricity.

Lord Mayor Renals has been worshipful master of a Free-mason's lodge and is an active magistrate and governor of the royal hospitals. In 1891 London's metropolitan and city police had a population of 5,633,332 to look after.

THE ... OF THE BISHOPS.

Interesting ... Complicated Contest In the Methodist Episcopal Association.

A recent decision of the supreme court of Pennsylvania ends, so far as that state is concerned, a very curious church war which has been raging for many years with a variety of incidents both disgusting and amusing. The Evangelical Association of German Protestants was started by Jacob Albrecht, a German Lutheran of Pennsylvania, in 1800 and has about 150,000 members, with 2,000 churches and 1,100 ministers. It has a publishing house in Cleveland, a theological institution at Naperville, Ills., and colleges at other places, and the titles to all these and all the churches are more or less involved in the many suits in various states.

BISHOP DUBS BISHOP ESHER BISHOP BOWMAN

There were three bishops—Thomas Bowman, J. J. Esher and Randolph Dubs, and the fight stood two against one, with Dubs the one. The Dubsites say the fight began 22 years ago in a personal quarrel between Bishop Esher of the Chicago see and Presiding Elder Huestler of the Elgin district. The Bowmanites declare that it began in Japan in a quarrel between their missionaries. Bishop Esher went there, investigated and recommended the recall of Superintendent Hartzler. The latter's friends at home denounced the bishop, and he "talked back." His son was son-in-law of Bishop Bowman, and so things were in good shape for a first class row.

Bishop Bowman was finally condemned by a conference and deposed. He denied the validity of such action and attempted to preside at the Des Moines conference. The trustees locked the door in his face, and he and those who supported him organized another conference in the open air amid falling snow. Bishop Esher was also condemned and deposed, but denied the authority of the tried body. Then the other side took a hand, and Bishop Dubs was condemned and deposed for "immoral and unbecoming conduct," so the church was bishopless. The conference, which should have cured the defect, split, and then lawsuits began for the church property. It has dragged on for many years, but the court has ruled for the Esher and Bowman party, and the Dubsites are organizing another church.

Big Rings for Women.

The latest fashionable freak among women who are blessed with pretty hands is to wear an immense ring, like a Roman Catholic bishop's, on the first finger of the right hand. It used to be considered the height of vulgarity to place a ring on the index finger, but now this decoration is the dernier cri.

TELLING THE TRUTH

A Well-known Business Man Testifies for Munyon.

W. D. Lovell, the well known real estate broker, of 42 N. Alexander street, Rochester, N. Y., says: "my wife was attacked with severe muscular rheumatism, and was finally compelled to take to her bed. I secured a bottle of Munyon's Rheumatism Cure, and after taking six doses she was able to rise and dress herself unassisted. I have also been relieved of sharp shooting pains after taking a few doses. I considered the cure a marvelous one.

Munyon's Rheumatism Cure is guaranteed to cure rheumatism in any part of body. Acute or muscular rheumatism can be cured in from one to five days. It speedily cures shooting pains, sciatica, lumbago and all rheumatic pains in the back, hips and joins. It seldom fails to give relief after one or two doses, and almost invariably cures before one bottle has been used.

Munyon's Stomach and Dyspepsia cure is guaranteed to cure all forms of stomach troubles and indigestion.

Munyon's Homœopathic Home Remedy Company, of Philadelphia, put up specifics for nearly every disease, which are sold by all druggists, mostly for 25 cents a bottle.

THE E. P. WHEELER MEMORIAL.

Contributions Asked for a Fund to Place in Grace Church a Memorial to Its Founder and Benefactor.

In a recent sermon, Rector Evans suggested that an altar or lectern be placed in Grace Church as a memorial to the late E. P. Wheeler, the founder of the parish and the faithful friend and constant benefactor of the church during all the years of his life. The suggestion was such a fitting one and met with such general approval that a committee was appointed to carry it into effect and the committee has prepared and sent to members of the parish the circular letter which is printed below.

The letter is published in this paper in the belief that many in this community not connected with Grace Church parish, who hold Mr. Wheeler's memory in loving and grateful remembrance will be glad to contribute to the proposed memorial.

The letter is as follows:

GRACE CHURCH, MIDDLETOWN, N.Y. October 16th, 1894.

It is contemplated to place a memorial in Grace Church to the man who was, in the providence of God, the founder of this parish. Fifty years ago, when Middletown was a little village of less than a thousand souls, it was Mr. Elisha P. Wheeler who conceived the pious thought which introduced the first rector of Grace Church, the Rev. Mr. Timlow, into this community. From that moment until his decease in 1876, full of years and honor, Mr. Wheeler, in an uninterrupted wardenship of thirty years, watched over the church of his creation with unslumbering vigilance and fostered all its interests with paternal care. The record of his lavish generosity towards the parish would fill a volume. No scheme for its welfare was ever projected towards which he was not the foremost contributor, and the present transepts were added at his sole cost.

His private life was that of a true-hearted Christian gentleman, nor was there any man in Middletown who stood higher in the public regard for sterling probity and unselfish charity.

It is no exaggeration to say that no one man ever did more for any church than Mr. Wheeler did for Grace Church, and we therefore, under a profound sense of the debt we owe his memory, offer you the present opportunity of making a suitable contribution towards placing such a memorial in the church as shall be worthy of its founder and greatest benefactor.

Very respectfully yours,
COL. D. C. DUSENBERRY, Chairman.
MR. J. B. SWALM, Treasurer.
MR. HILAND H. HUNT,
DR. LEWIS ARMSTRONG,
Wheeler Memorial Committee.
REV. DAVID EVANS, R. A., Rector.

Make checks payable to Mr. J. B. Swalm, 23 Linden avenue.

P. S.—The form of the memorial will depend on the amount of the fund, which should certainly not fall below $200.

GRACE CHURCH RESTORATION.

The Work Completed—The Church to Be Opened for Services Next Sunday.

Workmen are engaged, to-day, in laying the linoleum on the floor of Grace Church, and as soon as this work is done the pews, which have been newly grained, will be put in place and everything will be in readiness for resuming the regular services in the church next Sunday.

All who have seen the interior of the church since the painting and decoration of the walls was completed unite in admiring the beauty of the work. The soft ground tints of the walls and ceilings harmonize perfectly and the frescoes are pleasing in design and coloring, and though not elaborate produce a fine and finished effect. It is safe to say that at no time since Grace Church was built has its interior been as beautiful and attractive as it will be when opened again for the worship of God on Sunday next.

The whole work has been done by the General Repairing and Construction Company, of 396 Gates avenue, Brooklyn, which, as its name indicates, does a general building, painting and repairing business, both in the cities and the country. Six weeks have been occupied in the work on Grace Church, the whole job having been under the supervision and direction of Foreman Matt. L. Heeney.

Large Advance Sale for "Eight Bells."

Messrs. H. S. Dusenberry & Son, the obliging reserved seat ticket sellers for the Casino, report one of the largest advance sales of the season for "Eight Bells." The piece gave such satisfaction last season, that the Casino will be crowded to the doors, to-morrow night.

Rebecca Wilkinson, of Brownsvalley, Ind., says: "I have been in a distressed condition for three years from nervousness, weakness of the stomach, dyspepsia and indigestion, and my health was gone. I had been doctoring constantly with no relief. I bought one bottle of South American Nervine, which did me more good than any $50 worth of doctoring I ever did in my life. Now I advise every weakly person to use this valuable and lovely medicine; a few bottles of it have cured me completely. I consider it the grandest medicine in the world." Warranted the most wonderful stomach and nerve tonic ever known. Sold by J. E. Mills, Middletown, N. Y.

OFF FOR NEWBURGH.

Phœnix Engine Company and Guests Leave to Engage in the Hillside City's Firemen's Tournament.

Phœnix Engine Co., No. 4, left this morning, for Newburgh, where they will participate in the firemen's parade and tournament to-day and to-morrow as the guests of Highland Engine Company.

The members of the company met at the engine house at 7:30 o'clock and marched to the Wickham avenue depot, where they took a special car which was attached to the Sullivan County Express. On the sides of the car were streamers bearing the words: "Phœnix Engine Co., No. 4."

Twenty-five members of the company in the regulation firemen's uniform marched to the depot and a dozen more will go to-morrow.

The company had as guests Aldermen Reed and Funnell, ex-Mayor Bailey, ex Supervisor Gabriel Tuthill, Chief Engineer Ed. Thorpe and Assistants Chas. Higham and Daniel Schmitt.

Other city officials and members of the Citizens' Committee on last year's parade will probably go to-morrow.

A SINGULAR COINCIDENCE.

Gen. McGrath Always on Hand When the Lights Go Out.

A singular coincidence, which has marked the visits of Inspector General McGrath to this city, is the regularity with which the electric lights go out during the ceremony of inspection.

On the occasion of his visit three years ago, when the 24th was quartered in the old elevator factory on Union street, a fuse burned out leaving the building in total darkness. Lamps and lanterns were procured and the inspection proceeded after a wait of nearly an hour. Two years ago at the Armory a similar mishap occurred and it was necessary to light the gas.

Last night, for some reason or other, the electric lights again failed and a delay was caused until the gas could be lighted.

MIDDLETOWN'S SILK MILLS BOOMING.

All Running on Full Time With Orders Far Ahead.

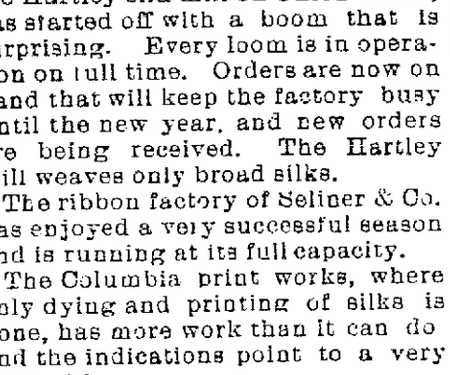
Middletown's silk mills are all running at their full capacity, with orders far ahead. The new factory, the Hartley silk mill on Union street, has started off with a boom that is surprising. Every loom is in operation on full time. Orders are now on hand that will keep the factory busy until the new year, and new orders are being received. The Hartley mill weaves only broad silks.

The ribbon factory of Seliner & Co. has enjoyed a very successful season and is running at its full capacity.

The Columbia print works, where only dying and printing of silks is done, has more work than it can do and the indications point to a very profitable season.

W. C. T. U. Notes.

It is expected that Mrs. Sarah J. Wheat, of Otisville, will be present, to-morrow afternoon, to take charge of the meeting of the department, of which she is president, that of "Social purity and mother's meetings." This is a very important department in temperance work and mothers are especially invited. Let there be a good attendance. Meeting at 3 o'clock at the McDermott House, 134 North street.



CUTICURA for the HAIR

Luxuriant Hair

With a clean, wholesome scalp, free from irritating and scaly eruptions, is produced by CUTICURA SOAP, the most effective skin purifying and beautifying soap in the world, as well as purest and sweetest for toilet, bath, and nursery. It clears the scalp and hair of crusts, scales, and dandruff, destroys microscopic insects which feed on the hair, soothes irritated and itching surfaces, stimulates the hair follicles, and supplies the roots with energy and nourishment. For the prevention of facial blemishes, for giving a brilliancy and freshness to the complexion, as well as for cleansing the scalp and invigorating the hair, it is without a peer.

For bad complexions, oily, pothy skin, red, rough hands, chapped, rancid, dry, thin, and falling hair, and simple baby blemishes it is wonderful.

INSPECTION OF THE 24TH.

Many Spectators Present—Sixty-Seven of the Seventy-one Members of the Company on Hand.

A large crowd of spectators was present at the Armory, last evening, to witness the annual inspection and muster of the 24th Separate Company by Inspector General Thomas H. McGrath.

The inspection was a long one, the early portion of it being devoted to the explanation of the use and adjustment of the new Merriam pack. The company was then drilled in the various evolutions in close order by Capt. McIntyre and the Lieutenants Stivers.

Of the seventy-one members of the company, sixty-seven were present, the absentees being Surgeon Hulett and Privates O. Jones, E. E. Bush and Paul Purps.

After the inspection the officers and non-commissioned officers repaired to the Wallkill House, where Mine Host Pfaff had prepared an informal lunch.

A pleasant feature of the evening was the presentation of an armory souvenir spoon to Gen. McGrath, by Capt. McIntyre on behalf of the commissioned officers and non-commissioned officers of the company.

The result of the inspection by the General will not be known until the publication of his annual report, but it is safe to say that the 24th held its own and will rank among the highest in the State, as usual.

A COMMON QUESTION.

WHERE MAY WOMEN GO FOR HELP?

How Many American Women Have Asked This Question of Themselves.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

You may call it dangerous modesty if you will. It is in woman's heart, and is part of woman's nature.

She shrinks from telling her physical troubles to men.

During the past 20 years thousands of women throughout the world have written in womanly confidence to Lydia E. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and laid bare the life of misery they endured.

They wrote freely, knowing that their letters went direct to the hands of a woman who not alone understood their sufferings but whose heart was full of sympathy with them. The experience of thousands has proved how carefully their letters were studied, and how true and sure came the answer and helpfulness.

You may be suffering daily when you need not. You can tell the story of your pain to a woman, and get the help that only a woman can give.

A young lady from Boston writes to a friend, saying:—"They said I was consumptive, sent me away, told me to keep quiet, no excitement, no tennis. Just think of it! One day I found a little book called 'Guide to Health,' by Lydia E. Pinkham. In it I found out what ailed me, so I wrote to her; got a lovely reply. She told me just what to do, and I am in splendid health now."

The same assistance is waiting for you. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has relieved more female suffering than any other medicine in the world.
